

THE HERALD.

JNO. P. BARRETT, Editor.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 20, 1878.

Whether this war of the Russian upon the Turk is for the protection of the Christians as professed or not, it will evidently result in the greater security of Christianity against the hated and deadly intolerant persecution of the Mohammedan Turk. To desire such a result is, under the circumstances, nothing but reasonable by the Christian nations of the earth. However much war may be deplored, and without any desire to precipitate nations into such bloody strife, yet, when it does happen, we choose between the contestants in view of the justice of the cause and good results from the success of the one or the other. England could have taken the lead in this affair for the protection of the Christians with the approval of the civilized world, and it was rather expected of her than Russia; at all events, she ought not to have been adverse to the triumph of Russia in the struggle. Her demonstrations in the interest of Turkey, considering the character she has always evinced as a leading Christian nation, was unbecomingly hasty if not unjustifiable, and her present attitude is humiliating in the extreme, for her deceptive diplomacy she led Turkey into the error of reliance for aid, when really her threatening preparations and orders to her fleets were for motives of interests, adroitly covered under chivalrous display and bluster. She fooled the Turk, but, following the advice of Gortschakoff, she was lamentably fooled herself, and now the probability is the Cross and Crescent may have together—the Muscovite and Turk, shoulder with shoulder and step with step may charge old John Bull. This would be sure to crack for the Czar and Gortschakoff as they think over the Crimean war. England has placed herself in an unenviable attitude—to fight against odds or sneak out home with her fleet and acknowledge her deceptive bluffing.

The world is had enough as it is and needs all the appliances for good to redeem it and make man more like the image of the Holy Deity from whom we came, and, but from sin, would maintain still the impress of that likeness worn by Adam. Why any human being should seek to make the earth a hell and mankind devils can only be accounted for by the example of the unholiness of the fallen angel, who would rather rule in hell than serve in heaven. Think of Bob Ingersoll lecturing to the Christian nation of America, denouncing the existence of God, His holy character and a hereafter. What a comment on the great political party that champions such a moral demon. What a comment on the intelligence and Christian virtue of a people that encourage and listen to a gifted yet great demoralizing humbug. Men of such mould have lived, did as he to be applauded for deceptive logic and eloquent wickedness. This is a fearful price to pay. False ambition. The soul would sell to rule with devils in the blackest hell, finds naught that's good on earth to love nor yet in heaven to approve. One gleam of light sparkling on the page of Revelation darkens whole volumes of Hume, Voltaire, Tom Paine, and the mendacious, philosophic, political Bob Ingersoll.

The theory of a passage into the subterranean regions of "the earth is dead, and we thought exploded long since. What new developments have induced a Professor Simmes to reproduce it, we are at a loss to divine. Some fifty years ago, a Prof. Simmes introduced the subject and lectured upon it, claiming the earth had an entrance at the North pole, into which the ocean poured and vessels could sail in and out. Many persons, yet living, will remember "Simmes' Hole," which was ridiculed very much, especially in Cincinnati. Now that the location of Hell is agitated, and a Catholic priest fills it in the bowels of the earth, what particular advantage would the establishment of the theory afford. The Professor might sail in with a cargo of ice; in so hot a climate it would be a luxury; but what exchange would he have to sail out with, if he should get out at all? On top of the earth, we have enough of his Satanic Majesty's rule to doubt his veracity; but where he is imperial in government, to enter his subterranean dominions is hopeless of return.

Another Richmond in the Field.

By reference to the candidates' column our readers will see that John W. Mosley, of Ellis Precinct, is announced as a candidate for assessor. Mr. Mosley lives in the Gibraltar district so far as Democracy is concerned, and is a true, staunch, life-long Democrat politically, and announces his candidacy as being subject to that party. He is a man of mature age and judgment, practical and prudent in his habits, and it elected to the position of assessor the people will never have cause to complain of his inefficiency as an officer.

The Register at Alexander's Hotel.

The register at Alexander's Hotel shows a daily arrival fully twice as large any other hotel in the city. This speaks well for the popularity of this excellent house.

Rev. J. DeWitt Duncan, of Elizabethtown, died last Friday evening.

Returning Board Anderson, of Louisiana, is asking for a new trial.

Alex. is striking for the sea and he is no Czar-dine, either.—New Era.

The trouble with England is Britain in the East.—New Era.

J. Madison Wells has been released on a $10,000 bail bond.

Next Friday, 22d, will be a legal holiday—being the birthday of the Father of our Country.

The President has nominated Wm. C. Goodloe, of Kentucky, to be minister resident in Belgium.

The game law, as published on our first page, is not applicable to this Senatorial district.

The new charter of Hartford has passed both branches of the Legislature.

The frog singeth, the dove cooeth, the birds warble, the bees swilleth. The ground-hog theory is correct, and we are entering the threshold of Spring.

Mr. E. Y. Kilgore has resumed his old position as proprietor and business manager of the Glasgow Times, Dr. Woods continuing as editor.

The farmers who took premiums at the Hartford fair have been busy ever since "counting out their money." The Commissioner of Agriculture's report says barley grows luxuriantly in this county. Prove it.—Farmers' Home Journal.

Good.

Senator Read, of Louisville, has originated a bill making it a criminal offense to conduct a lottery or sell a lottery ticket in the State. It is to be hoped that it will be made a law and be rigidly enforced.

The Evansville Courier begins to feel its oats. It came out on the 12th inst., in mammoth size, and although it was large enough for a bed-cover (for which purpose we have appropriated it) it was every bit of it chuck full of good reading.

In place of the whipping-post let all petty larceny and misdemeanors be punishable by hard labor on the streets, roads, bridges and public works of the country. This would be far more profitable and would deter criminals much greater than a whipping.

Eighteen true bills have been found against Alderman Moss, of Louisville, for forgery. He is now in charge of a deputy sheriff, and as soon his health will permit his removal he will be lodged in jail unless bond in the sum of $18,700 be given.

We see from the News that Mr. John Wells, of Elizabethtown, is a candidate for county clerk of Hardin county. He is a sober, discreet, polite young man and a very efficient clerk, and there is no young man in Hardin county we would sooner, so promoted. If we had a voice in the matter we would say that John would do Wells's enough for us.

Appreciated Compliments.

The Hartford Herald's premium fair was a success. John P. Barrett usually succeeds at whatever he undertakes. His enterprise and public spirit should be appreciated by his people, and his paper made to pay him a handsome income.—[Good Templars Advocate.]

Col. John P. Barrett's "Premium Fair" was a success. It was largely attended by his patrons from all parts of the country. One hundred dollars in gold were distributed to the successful competitors. Everything passed off pleasantly, and with satisfaction to all interested.—[Princeton Banner.]

Dr. J. W. Meador wants to make hay for Ohio county by exempting her from the pains and penalties of the fish law.

Ohio county wants the privilege of catching all the fish that are put in Green and Barren rivers.—[Courier-Journal.]

Spring can hardly resist such soft, earnest solicitations as this from a correspondent to the Nelson Record. "Come welcome, lovely spring, and with you all flowers and beauties bring, filling our hearts with everything which will make us happier than the king of kings."

James Banks, of the Henderson Reporter, had a tobacco fair Wednesday, in which eighteen hogheads were entered. The first premium—a year's subscription to the Reporter and the Courier-Journal—was awarded to J. A. Higginson, and the second premium to J. A. Crenshaw.

W. N. Sweeney, Esq., has determined to enter in earnest upon the canvass for the Appellate Judgeship, and accordingly left on the train this morning, and will visit all of the counties of the district before returning home.—Owensboro Examiner.

Found Dead.

The body of a man was found yesterday morning concealed in a hollow tree, between Fairview and Pilot Rock in this county. Two horses were tied to a tree near by and from the appearance of the body and the horses it is evident that the man was killed several days ago. There were some letters on his person directed to Wells & Pritchett, of Madisonville. It is believed that the man killed was Mr. Adams, who represented that firm, and has been missing about a week. He had several hundred dollars on his person when last seen and it is therefore quite certain that he was murdered for the money.—New Era.

Reduction of Salaries.

The Lower House of the Legislature has passed an act reducing the salaries of Circuit Judges from $3,000 to $2,500. We have no doubt but $2,500 will command equally as good talent as $3,000. It used to be $1,800, and we had as good judges then as now. A Circuit Judge, at the very outside, is not engaged exceeding three hundred days in the year, and $2,500 salary is more than $8.00 a day. While they are at it, why not reduce the salary of the Judges of the Court of Appeals. They are paid $4,000 a year, and are located, have none of the expense of traveling around, boarding from home, &c., that Circuit Judges have. We see no good reason for reducing the salaries of Circuit Judges and leaving Appellate Judges the same, for of the two the Appellate Judge is the better paid as the salary now stands, taking into consideration labor, ability and expense.

Silver Gingles.

The Silver Bill passed the United States Senate last Saturday by the handsome majority of 48 to 41 and went to the House Monday and will pass that body.

First Blood for Blues.

The Democracy of Butler county have passed resolutions endorsing Captain Thos. H. Hines for the judgeship of the Court of Appeals, and instructing their delegates to cast the vote of Butler county for him in any convention that may be held to nominate a candidate for that position.

Judge Sands, one of the Circuit Judges of the State, has resigned, because he could not control his appetite for liquor. Think of this, young men of moderate indulgence. He was once a social young man, and never dreamed of being a confirmed drunkard any more than you now do. Yet he has given up position, wealth, reputation, respect, character and all that is dear, have been sacrificed on account of his love for drink. Be wise and shun his fate.

Biographical.

J. W. Meador, Fordville, Ohio county, Ky., was born November 6th, 1838, near Hardinsburg, Breckinridge county, Ky. His early education he received at a log school-house in his native county, and subsequently attended the Medical Department of the University of Louisville. During the late war he was a non-combatant. In 1874 he was a member of the Kentucky Legislature, being a Republican in politics. By occupation he is a physician.—Yoman.

Levon Ellis Green, Litchfield, Grayson county, Ky., was born at the Falls of Rough, Breckinridge county, Ky., January 17th, 1819. He received his early education at the common log school of the day. He was elected on the Democratic ticket to the Legislature from Grayson county in 1875-6. He has been a member of the Masonic Fraternity for the last twenty-five years, and is by occupation a planter and farmer. He was elected on the Democratic ticket over Dr. R. W. Brandon, Democrat, and H. C. Wheeler, Republican, to serve in the Lower House of the Kentucky Legislature on the occasion of the election of August 6th, 1877.—Yoman.

Mr. N. S. Roark who has been acting for some time as Deputy Revenue Collector in this place has been transferred to Greenville, where he will continue in the revenue service. Col. T. W. Campbell has been formally appointed as deputy Collector by Collector W. A. Stuart. Mr. Campbell's jurisdiction embraces the counties of Warren, Simpson, Allen, Edmonson, Butler and Hart. He has regularly entered upon the discharge of his official duties and the appointment is considered a most excellent one.—Bowling Green Democrat.

Seek and Ye Shall Find.

The citizens of Hartford, Ky., are aroused like a colony of bees when the hive is turned over. The young have trimmed their lamps, the old have rubbed up their "spurs," and all are groping in the dark, "seeking those five or six elegant churches" that are said to be in the town. There is no mistake, for the Commissioner of Agriculture says they are there in "my report," and as the said commissioner is no less an authority on theology than on barley, the statement must be accepted as true. In fact one of the churches has been found. What troubles the Hartford folks, though, is the tide of immigration, mostly preachers and Sunday school superintendents seeking employment, that has turned that way since the "valuable" report was issued.—Farmers' Home Journal.

A Law to Pay Jurors in Interior Courts.

The following act has passed the Lower House of the Kentucky Legislature and will very probably pass the Senate and become a law: § 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky: That jurors in justices, police, city, and quarterly courts may consist of six men, qualified as now required by law.

§ 2. The pay of Jurors in said courts shall be fifty cents for each juror in each case. Provided, if the same juror serves on more than two juries in any one day, he shall not be allowed anything for such excess.

§ 3. The jurors summoned in each case where a fee is allowed, shall be allowed to collect same from the party demanding the jury, as fees are now allowed by law to be collected, and the entire jury fee shall be taxed as costs, and received from the unsuccessful party.

§ 4. This act shall take effect from June 1, 1878.

Letter from Frankfort.

FRANKFORT, KY., Feb. 14, 1878.

Editor Herald:

But fourteen days of the time contemplated as necessary for the framing of one State Constitution for the biennial meeting together of the Salons elected for the purpose of healing the distemper of the body politic, remain, and yet it is lamentably true that very little legislation of a general character has been done, at least but little has been completed. During the first half of the session the usual practice of local bills was ground out, nor was it to be expected that the General Assembly would be able to pass many laws of a general nature during that part of the session, as such bills have to be maturely considered in committee where oftentimes much time and discussion is necessary in order to perfect them, but for the last two weeks neither local or general bills have been passed except in limited number, as the brains of members have been racked by what, in many instances, seems to have been a futile undertaking, a vigorous effort to comprehend the bills of general import which at that time were showered upon both Houses in profusion, chief among which were the Public Printing Bills, of which there were two or three; Penitentiary Bills, of which there were several, some providing for a continuation of the present system, some for an extension of the walls of the present prison, another looking to the building of a branch or additional prison in Western Kentucky, another providing for the future government of the institution under the warden system. Then there was the Interest Bill, which proposed to reduce the legal rate of interest to six per cent, which passed the Senate a few days ago and has gone to the House for its concurrence, the friends of which were so largely in the majority as to force it to a vote without much unnecessary debate, though several of its friends felt compelled to "shile their castles" just a little, you know. One ambitious young Senator, whose friends after carefully examining his homoeopathic declaration that he is destined to be the next Lieutenant Governor, declared that he felt constrained to speak, inasmuch as he made his race upon the merits of that proposition. And so it goes on from day to day, the members of the Senate, or many of them, persisting in discussion till the body has been the sick-nurse of the "deceitful society." But to-day Senator Garrett, of Trigg, delivered the speech of the session, his speech being one of the really entertaining and instructive speeches thus far heard in the chamber during the present session. The Senate was in Committee of the Whole, considering the bill providing for the warden system for the government of the Penitentiary, and containing a clause providing for the working of the convicts upon public works, and especially the navigable water courses of the State, as the General Assembly may from time to time direct. There was a motion made to strike out that clause by an opponent of the idea of internal improvement by the State, and upon that motion a heated discussion at once arose and has continued for three days, with little indication that a vote will be reached this week. But your reader may rest assured that the idea of a vast system of internal improvement at the expense of the State Treasury finds but little favor with a majority of this General Assembly, for members have taken the trouble to consult the official documents of the State, which show that during the twenty years from 1857 to 1858, the State, through her Legislature, appropriated for the improvement of the Kentucky river alone upwards of $900,000, and during the same period appropriated for the improvement of Green and Barren rivers upwards of $800,000, and to the Licking river upwards of $300,000, making in round numbers, though I have not now the figures before me, a grand aggregate of $2,000,000, and for all that vast outlay of money what did the treasury ever receive? Some $400,000, in revenue. In other words, the people of Kentucky are out a sum approximating $2,000,000, which, had it been properly invested in bonded securities, would now amount, with accrued interest, to well, the curious can make their own calculations. And what have the people in return for so vast an expenditure? The Licking river, in worse condition than the God of Nature made it; the Kentucky river improvements in a wretched and ruined condition; and the Green and Barren river lies under the control of a saloon corporation, in whose interest alone navigation upon that life is permitted.

PERSONAL.

Gen. Williams, with that high sense of propriety which people of Kentucky may expect will mark his conduct as their Senator in Congress, refused the services of a brass band, one night last week, to serenade him at the Capitol Hotel, where, in the midst of the street gamins, hotel loaters and such members of the General Assembly as claimed to be present, he mounted a goods box or table in the office of that building, and proceeded to make his speech which he promised to deliver before the joint Assembly when notified of his election to the high office of U. S. Senator. I did not hear the speech, but am told by those who did, that he maintained right well his hard-earned reputation of demagogue. His friends were chagrined, and I heard one prominent member of the Lower House swear that he was ashamed of it and of himself for having supported Gen. Williams.

The Green river section is well represented on the floor of the Lower House. Cravens and Tharp, of Daviess, have taken high rank as careful, intelligent legislators. Merritt, of Henderson, merits the applause of his constituents for the same reasons. While the Meadow-r, of Ohio, is in no wise green, but makes legislative hay of good quality and merchantable value—Jones of Muhlenburg is unflinching in his efforts to subvert the interests of his constituents, while Haze is paying commendable attention to the Green and Barren river monopoly as well as all other matters affecting his people. Thos. A. Robertson, "the gentleman from LaRue," is a young man of marked individuality, fine attainments, quick wit, and a useful member, while Goodnight, of Simpson, and McElroy, of Warren, both very young men, have won their way to the front rank of usefulness and influence in the body of which they are honored though youthful members. More anon, from SCHRIEBLER.

Ceraleto Letter.

CERALETO, KY., Feb. 11.

Business dull. But little tobacco selling. Wheat looks promising. Health of the people good, with an occasional case of whooping-cough, which is of a very malignant character.

The log men's prayers, for a big rise in the river, remains unanswered.

The students from South Carolina Institute, who have been home on visits this week, have nearly all returned, leaving us quite lonely. Miss Emma Fullerton and Tommie Baker will not go back this session.

I don't know yet how the fellow will succeed, but 'tis said that "earnest efforts always wins," and I think I will tell you all about it in my next.

VALENTINES.

Some of our young ladies received letters through the post-office to-day with turtle doves on them. Ours didn't have a turtle dove on it. Want to hire a pugilist to make huzzard victims out of the fellows that sent it.

A WONDERFUL WATCH.

Mr. V. E. Morton owns a watch which, according to all accounts, has been running and keeping time for over a hundred years. What a tale this old watch could tell if it could talk. Doubtless it often excited the wonder of the Red Man, who visited the pioneer cabin, and the deep thought-widow of our old Kentucky State. It marked the hour when the old bell man in the belfry on Independence Hall rang out the joyful news, "his passed," and was ticking away when Mr. Crenshaw said, "You've lammed our backs, George, and leave my bowie-knife for you to keep forever and ever." It saw our forefathers ninety years ago, a small band of needy patriots, struggling to form a government, with scarcely a dollar in the treasury; and it has seen our glorious republic grow and expand until to-day we stand a billion dollars in debt.

It saw Hartford when it was but a small village—and beheld it grow in less than a hundred years to a town of six or seven hundred inhabitants. It saw the foundation of the locks on Rough river laid—and it saw the company's bonds go up, and up, until they sold for ten cents on the hundred dollars. It beheld us vote a tax to build a railroad that was to cross Green River at Ceraleto, South Carolina, Hogg's Falls and Point Pleasant, at one and the same time—it saw that wonderful railroad perish for lack of funds in other countries to meet its half way.

It saw the great order of Patrons of Husbandry rise and flourish, until under its benign influence its promises were verified, tobacco sold at two cents per pound, and poor middlemen could get but one hundred and ten dollars for a bundle of goods worth nineteen dollars and fifty cents. It saw more than this. It saw people exchanging old geese feathers for new—and though nine long, weary years have passed since then, it is still watching—vainly watching the promised return of the middleman with the new feathers. It saw the greenback party rise and prosper—it saw it beat the great Democratic party in Ohio county 600 votes—over the left; and then die. It has seen all these, and yet ticks on. Blessed old bullseye, you are a brick.

Any one can see this wonderful ticker for the small sum of fifteen cents, or five postage stamps, but owing to the present stringency of the money market, no chromos will be given this year.

But jesting aside, if it were mine no amount of money would induce me to part with it. I would treasure it in memory of one of the truest men that ever graced Ohio county with his life.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS.

The Law About the Sale of Leaf Tobacco by the Month.

I find there is a very general misapprehension of the law on the part of farmers and others in reference to the sale of leaf tobacco in the month of October, and for other small parcels, and, therefore, for the purpose of informing all persons interested, I here insert the following provisions of the law on that subject.

1. Farmers and planters for selling tobacco of their own production, and tobacco received by them as rent from tenants who have produced the same on their lands, are not required to pay special tax as dealers in leaf tobacco.

Neither is the farmer or planter required to pack or press his tobacco, before offering it for sale, in bales, heads or otherwise, but he may sell loose, as he may see fit, in the month of October, if he so chooses, the farmer or planter shall sell directly to consumers, or if he sells, assigns, conveys, transfers, or disposes of his tobacco to persons other than those who have paid special taxes either as leaf-dealers or as manufacturers of tobacco, snuff, or cigars, or to persons purveying for the exportation of tobacco for foreign sale, as a dealer in leaf tobacco, to the special tax of $500, and to the additional tax of 50 cents on every dollar in excess of $1,000 of his sales.

2. Manufacturers of tobacco, snuff, and cigars are not required to pay a special tax as dealers, for selling the products of their own manufacture, at the place of manufacture. Any change of the leaf by twisting is regarded as manufacture, and subjects the article to a tax of 24 cents per pound, and the dealer in it should pay the tax of a dealer in manufactured tobacco, 85 cents per annum. The selling of tobacco by the hand or in small parcels, to consumers without having paid the special tax subjects the party to a heavy penalty, which, if not paid, the collector tends bound to enforce. Farmers or others having small crops of tobacco which they desire to sell, must investigate the question and ascertain what are their rights and duties in reference to this matter. The collector will cheerfully answer all inquiries addressed to him.

TEMPERANCE.

Much has been said of late of temperance societies. They are represented by their friends and members as powerful engines for effecting a total reform from drunkenness.

By their opponents, they are ridiculed and traduced, but their influence is a mere shadow, they are in their nature tyrannical, unchristian and hypocritical, and those who will join a society against the cause are fools and impostors.

If the temperance reformers have only one poor heart-broken mother and children from beggary misery, let us rejoice. It shows they are benefiting in their nature and deserve encouragement. Why not give it? Because you are not a drunkard and like to take one or two drinks a day? So it is you teach your children who look for an example, to partake of the family.

We all know a man who loves his family will sacrifice his private inclinations for the public good.

Mahammed, seeing the effect it had upon his countrymen, forbade the use of strong drink.

The Indians look upon drunkenness as a fit of madness. They say if you wish a slave of durable material, you should have it made of the skin of a drunkard's mouth, for it never lets in water.

Whisky is never pure. The dealers use poisonous berries of different kinds to produce a nice color. In wines they use alum and sugar of lead.

According to the report of Commissioner Wells, in the last year of the war there was sold in the United States $1,593,491,365 worth of intoxicating liquors. Is it a wonder that so many women and children suffer for the necessities of life? That so many die from starvation? Every prison in the land cries aloud against this social evil; every poor house is filled with its victims; every insane asylum its raging maniacs; every gambling hall with its depravity. Every penitentiary is a monument of its effects, every gallows "is a tale of rum tells," and yet the great, busy, unthinking world drives madly along while rum is filling the land with sorrow, crime and wretchedness. It carries 30,000 to eternity annually, and to destruction over $1,500,000,000, which it puts to the benefit of the poor would drive misery and crime from the land.—Ballad County News.

The Murphy Movement.

From the Temperance Advertiser.

Outside of religion, there is no topic so well qualified for enkindling, and exciting into its service, all the passions of the heart, as this Murphy movement. It is not the magic spell of the drama, transporting us for the time; nor is it the sudden outbreak of some temperance fanatic, who thinks by exciting the whole nation he will immortalize his own name forever. And yet methinks the name of Francis Murphy will be immortalized. For through the fires of temperance were kindled in the long ago; and different temperance organizations have added fuel to them from time to time, yet it was Francis Murphy who applied the torch in the right place, and caused the flames to burst forth in every direction; which are destined to spread through every town and city from State to State. May God grant that they may not be assuaged until they shall have extended from ocean to ocean, and the dirge of King Alcohol shall have been chanted all over the nation. Help this is a work the ladies can help accomplish, if they will only give their entire influence, and with unshaken and undiminished courage, fearless of reproaches, regardless of disapprobation, vindicate the Murphy Movement. Then let us not hesitate, but do all in our power to cleanse our country from this fearful, cruel, etc. etc. etc. are all enough to inflame a taste for whisky, or our daughters become the wives of drunkards. Let there be a general co-operation amongst us, and may God prosper our cause.

ATTENTION.

A Consumption for any length of time causes irritation of the Lungs, or Some chronic Throat affection. Neglect often leads to the most incurable Lung disease. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES have proved their efficacy, by a test of many years, and will almost invariably give immediate relief. A constant use of a powerful expectorant, and do not take any of the worthless imitations that may be offered.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

The reputation has obtained, in consequence of the marvelous cures it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been cured of alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it acknowledge its superiority; and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates to add medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. Croupy Pectoral always attacks in winter, and produces rapid cure of the most violent of bronchial disorders, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs. As a safeguard to children, and the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable; for, by its timely use, rashes are averted and restored to health. This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it constantly produces are too remarkable to be forgotten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it never will.

Eminent Physicians throughout the country prescribe it, and Clergymen often recommend it from their knowledge of its effects.

AS THE BEST FAMILY SEWING MACHINE.

Its competitors receiving only an award for some special feature of their machines.

The World-renowned Wilson Sewing Machine

Has Unlimited Capacity to do all kinds of Family Sewing and Manufacturing.

ITS PATENT AUTOMATIC "MUT-CUT" on the hand wheel prevents the machine from running backward, and obviates the necessity of taking the work from the machine to wind thread on the bobbin, which must be done with all other Sewing Machines. In the great majority of cases, especially in thick, hemming and ruffling. It does one-third more work in a given length of time than any other Sewing machine.

WITH EVERY NOTION OF THE FOOT THE MACHINE MAKES SIX STITCHES.

Three Wilson Machines will do as much work in one day as four other Machines.

It requires no special instructions to use it; an Illustrated Direction Book is furnished with each machine.

IT CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER, AND THE ADJUSTMENTS ARE ABSOLUTELY PERFECT.

A properly executed Certificate is furnished with each machine, guaranteeing to keep it in repair, free of charge, for five years. Machines sold on easy terms of payment, and delivered, free of charge, at any Railroad Depot in the United States where we have no Agents.

Send for Illustrated Catalogue, 25 Agents Wanted.
